ECIS 2019 App URL: <https://crowd.cc/s/2Ewge>

The screenshot displays the ECIS 2019 mobile app interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Schedule', 'My Schedule', and 'Invitations'. Below this is a calendar view showing the days of the event: 'Before the Event', 'Saturday 08', 'Sunday 09', 'Monday 10', 'Tuesday 11', 'Wednesday 12' (highlighted), 'Thursday 13', 'Friday 14', and 'After the Event'. A search bar is located below the calendar. The main content area lists sessions for Wednesday, June 12th, including DIGPUB1, DINST1, DSRIS1, ISADIF1, and ITPROJ1, each with a time slot (11:00 AM to 12:30 PM) and a room number. A sidebar on the left contains an 'Event Guide' with various icons and links: Activity Feed, About, Schedules, Speakers, Industry Forum, Social Events, Travel around Stockholm, Best Paper Nominations, Best Reviewers Nominations, Sponsors, Exhibitors, Attendees, Maps, Game, Search, and ECIS 2020. The bottom of the app shows logos for 'event' and 'CrowdCompass'.

ECIS 2019

ECIS 2019 Keynote Speakers

Emmanuelle Vaast

Professor of Information Systems, Desautels Faculty of Management, McGill University, Canada

Emmanuelle Vaast is Professor of Information Systems at the Desautels Faculty of Management of McGill University. She holds a Ph.D. in Management Sciences from Ecole Polytechnique, Paris.

Her research examines how social practices emerge and change with the implementation and use of new technologies and how these new practices are associated with organizational and change dynamics. She has in particular investigated the learning and knowledge dynamics taking place at different levels (communities and networks of practice, for instance) and the boundary spanning involved in these dynamics when new systems get implemented and used.

Michael Björn

Head of Research and Ericsson ConsumerLabs, Sweden

Michael Björn is Head of Research Agenda and Quality at Ericsson Consumer & IndustryLab. In his role he is studying global ICT market trends, as well as the process of assimilation of ICT in society. Professionally, he is most well-known as the author of the Ericsson ConsumerLab 10 Hot Consumer Trends report that has been published annually for eight years and has gained much international media coverage, including appearances at BBC World News and CNN, and as a

TEDx speaker.
